

Consider becoming an EPCF board member

The Eden Prairie Community Foundation, a 501(c)(3) non-profit organized in 1981, is always on the lookout for candidates for its volunteer Board of Directors.

What is EPCF? It is both a grant-maker and a vehicle for charitable giving for individuals and organizations that hold funds through the Foundation. With donors' help, the EPCF has awarded more than $2 million in grants since its inception.

Board members typically serve two, three-year terms and have a number of specific governing responsibilities, including duties to exercise reasonable care when making decisions, comply with governing documents, and assure the financial accountability of the organization.

They attend monthly board meetings, serve on at least two committees, attend the Foundation's events, make a financial contribution to the Foundation, develop funding support, contribute expertise, and represent the Foundation when out in the community.

But they also believe in the mission, values and goals of the Eden Prairie Community Foundation, and they work to expand the organization's programs and services – all the while protecting its assets and its legal and ethical integrity.

Are you involved in Eden Prairie, and interested in making it even better? Are you willing to serve the community, and would you add passion and leadership skills to the Foundation? If so, you may well be a candidate for the Eden Prairie Community Foundation's board of directors.
